

Seed Promotion and Class Schedules at Comstock, Ferre & Co.

Dear Gardening Enthusiasts,

Comstock Ferre & Co. would like to invite you all to come and visit us this season. We are continuing with tradition as one of the nation's oldest seed houses by offering a collection of over 1800 varieties of heirloom, non-GMO seeds. Our 2015 seeds are all on our shelves now!

During Valentine's week (Feb.9-15), we will be running a special promotion for all our garden lovers. We will offer discounts on all our seeds, as follows:

-Purchases of seeds between $20-50: 10% off

-Purchases of seeds between $50-100: 20% off

-Purchases of seeds over $100: 30% off

In addition to our heirloom seeds and garden related material, we have a beautiful gift selection available, including books and stationery, jewelry, organic clothing items, children's clothing and toys, hats and accessories, body care products, etc. We also carry sweet Valentine gifts!

We invite you to consider attending our spring classes. Our speakers will cover many topics including heirloom seeds, garden design, herbs and health. You have the option to participate in one lecture or to take the full course of five lectures with each speaker. Please see the details below about our classes, schedules, and pricing:

Anatomy of a Garden

Instructor: Roxann Lovell

Roxann is a master gardener and a true artist in working with plants, from growing them to understanding a multitude of uses. She is very knowledgeable about edibles, as well as using plants for home-related purposes, such as soaps, lotion formulas and wreath-making.
